(Program Start Date May, 2018) The Master of Science in Medical Sciences is a one-year program specifically designed to provide students with a structured opportunity to acquire knowledge and skills that will prepare them for the challenges of applying to and succeeding in medical school and other professional schools.

Master of Science in Medical Sciences

Students who want to start their path to medical or dental school at a community college need to create a personal road map and follow it carefully in the first semesters of attendance.

Pre-Medicine and Pre-Dental Advising for Community College

Students are encouraged to consider additional coursework in biochemistry, computer sciences, genetics, humanities, and social sciences. Students do not have to complete all requirements at the time of application, but must do so by matriculation.

Requirements | School of Medicine | University of Colorado

In order to study medicine at the University of Toronto, and in Canada generally, you must have some previous university experience and cannot enter a program directly from high school. The earliest you can apply is the beginning of your third year of undergraduate studies. There are different academic requirements depending on your educational background:
