Three types of blueberries appear to be adapted to cultivation in Alabama. The most prominent of these is the rabbiteye (Vaccinium ashei). The northern highbush types (Vaccinium corymbosum) may be adapted to certain cool sites in northern Alabama. Additionally, a new type of blueberry known as the southern highbush has been recently developed from the interspecific hybridization of the native ...

Commercial Blueberry Production Guide for Alabama

The genus Vaccinium has a mostly circumpolar distribution, with species mainly being present in North America, Europe, and Asia.. Many commercially sold species with English common names including "blueberry" are from North America. Many North American native species of blueberries are grown commercially in the Southern Hemisphere in Australia, New Zealand and South American nations.
