The notion of world history as a succession of "civilizations" is an entirely modern one. In the European Age of Discovery, emerging Modernity was put into stark contrast with the Neolithic and Mesolithic stage of the cultures of the New World, suggesting that the complex states had emerged at some time in prehistory. The term "civilization" as it is now most commonly understood, a complex ...

Samuel Phillips Huntington (1927-2008) was an American political scientist, sociologist, and historian. He is best known for his book The Clash of Civilizations and the Remaking of World Order, which argues that the primary divisions of world culture are defined by religion and language. Huntington's theory of "clash of civilizations" has become a prominent framework for understanding international relations in the post-Cold War era.
